Family

People have different opinions and feelings regarding the notion of family. The most common form of family is the nuclear family which includes husband, wife and unmarried children.

My family consists of five members: my dad and mom, my elder sister, my younger brother and myself. As you can see, I am not an only-child, which in my opinion is a good thing. Having a family means that I have a place where I feel secure and loved and where I can share my thoughts and feelings with the people who are closest to me. I really look up to my parents because they are ready to do everything to help and support me.

Unfortunately I have only one grandmother as my other grandparents died when I was very young. I also have three aunts and uncles, four first cousins and thirteen second cousins but I do not keep in touch with all of them. I am a godmother as well and I have two goddaughters and two godsons. They are the children of my cousins.

I am glad to be a member of the family I was born in and I could never imagine myself not having a family of my own.
